

Wildland Fire Prevention

In Hawaii, wildland fire season is all year long.

To reduce the risks, the Honolulu Fire Department urges you to properly store flammable materials, make and practice a family evacuation plan, keep fire lines and access points unobstructed, always be cautious and alert of fire risks when cooking outdoors and operating tools and machinery, and parking near vegetation.

Unauthorized open burning is illegal in Hawai'i.

This includes bonfires and rubbish.

Together, let's be fire wise! Mahalo!
